

They protect the bottom of the doors in areas where the traffic is heavy while improving the aestheticism.

They are tested to resist to shocks, to the corrosion and to the time.

Characteristics

This protection is made of a plate based of acrylovinyllic resin. The aspect is grained and of grey colour. This section mass coloured is anti-shock, smooth, not porous and classified M1. (don't use it outside).

Colour: grey (in standard), other colours on request.

Thickness : 1,2 mm 0.05'' in standard
optional 2 mm 0.08''